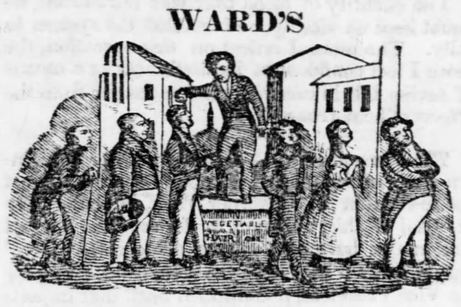
WARD'S



VEGETABLE HAIR OIL.

IN all ages of the world, a beautiful head of hair has been considered the greatest ornament ever bestowed by nature upon the human frame, and indispensably necessary to the perfection of personal beauty. It is a very general complaint of young persons, that their hair is falling off, becoming dry, or unhealthy; this may be owing to the application of improper and injurious oils, or to the entire neglect of the hair. Without proper attention, diseases of the hair will arise, which are often found to occasion thinness, falling off, and frequently total baldness. For these evils, and the necessary inconveniences attending them, Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil will be found in all cases a sure remedy. Before offering this Oil to the public it had been tried in hundreds of cases of baldness, thinness and falling off of the hair, and in every instance its salutary effects have been realized to admiration. It has never failed to produce a new and beautiful growth of hair on heads already bald, and to check that falling off which so often occurs. In cases where it becomes dry and ceases to grow, this Oil will very soon render it healthy, and produce a rapid and beautiful growth, without the least injury to the most delicate head; nor does any falling off follow after using it. That loss of hair, which so often takes place after sickness, may be easily prevented by using this celebrated Oil. In short no Oil has ever been offered to the public that gives such universal satisfaction, and stands the test of experience like Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil.

That the public may rest assured of the salutary effects of this Oil, the following testimonials, from gentlemen of high respectability, are most respectfully submitted:—

Extract of a letter from John A. Wadsworth, M. D., of the city of Providence, R. I. to W. & L. Krumbhaar & Co., of Philadelphia.

Gentlemen: Dr. Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil has gained great repute with us, having restored Hair on heads that have been bald for years, and I have no doubt it will give satisfaction wherever it may be introduced.

Very respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

Messrs. STANLEY & Co., of Baltimore, in writing to Mr. HUNTON, Druggist, in Washington City, say, 'That Letters to them from Druggists in Boston, describe Ward's Hair Oil as being highly approved of there, and selling with astonishing rapidity.

Extract of a letter from Harvey Seymour, Druggist, Hartford, Ct., to the Proprietor, dated Hartford, Sept. 14, 1832.

Dear Sir: I find your Hair Oil a valuable article; I was so unfortunate as to lose the Hair from the top of my head, and, from the use of about half a bottle, I find it starting out anew.

HARVEY SEYMOUR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Oil, you were good enough to put into my hands when I was in Lowell, has produced the most wonderful effects on my Hair that I ever witnessed. You recollect when I called on you, my Hair had fallen very much, and I was quite bald; I have now a beautiful head of Hair, coming on very rapidly. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for the benefit the Oil has afforded me. A number of my friends are very anxious to obtain some of the Oil, and I wish you to send me one dozen bottles of the largest size immediately.

Yours, respectfully,
C. WOOD, M. D.

Extract of a letter from Dr. John A. Wadsworth, of Providence, to the Proprietor.

Esteemed Friend: Your Hair Oil is attended with very promising effects. One of our most respectable citizens, who had been bald for ten years, with a skin as smooth and free from hair as the palm of his hand, has been using the Oil, and fine hair is now coming out on every part of the previously bald scalp.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1832.

I certify that about fifteen years ago, my hair began to fall off, and in a few years became so thin that I found it a source of great inconvenience. On seeing Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil advertised in several New York papers, and highly recommended by two medical gentlemen, with whom I was acquainted, I was induced to make trial of it. When I commenced the use of it, I very much doubted its efficacy in my case, having been bald so many years. But I had not tried it long, before I found it to possess the properties which had been attributed to it. I have now as good and healthy a head of hair as I had twenty five years ago. I can cheerfully recommend it to others who have had the misfortune to lose their hair.

G. W. CUNNINGHAM.

BOSTON, Nov 3, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Sir: A friend of mine had a bottle of your Hair Oil put into his hand, and using it a short time, the hair began to grow on his head, which was before bald, and he had tried many other remedies in vain.

Yours, respectfully,
C. E. ALLEN.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 16, 1833.

BULLS must have been scarce, and in demand, about the office of the United States Gazette, when the editor discovered one in our paper of the 7th inst. Our brother editor has fully satisfied us that the longest way about is sometimes the shortest way home.—Had we said "in a short time," instead of using the single equivalent word, "shortly," our multiplicity of words would have cut short the wit of our witty brother. We very much doubt whether we became obscure in endeavoring to express our ideas "shortly."

KENTUCKY ELECTIONS.—The Louisville Advertiser, of the 10th inst. gives the following as the probable result of the election for Congress in that district.

"The Election.—It is now believed that Mr. Pope is elected. The Post Master at Westport writes that his majority is 338 in Oldham, and it was stated on the way bill received last evening from New Castle, that Mr. Pope's majority in Henry is 284. According to the statements received, the vote stands,

For Pope—In Jefferson and city of Louisv.	82
" In Henry,	284
" In Oldham,	338
	704
For Crittenden—in Shelby,	690
Probable majority,	14

Pope is the Jackson candidate.—The election was a very close one.

The Hon. Thomas P. Moore, our late Minister to Colombia, probably is elected to Congress in his old district.

U. S. BANK.—The National Gazette, after publishing the Circular Letter of Amos Kendall, which we published yesterday, adds the following remarks—

"It is seen by the foregoing document—that the business of the deposits has been withdrawn from the Secretary of the Treasury, upon whom specially it was devolved by Congress; that the executive branch of the government is now to be deemed the government; and that a President may assume and indeed prescribe the decision of a new Congress upon a question of high national importance. The head of the Treasury department makes a curious figure on the face of the Circular. Never, since the foundation of the department, has this officer appeared in so subordinate and ministerial a capacity. The fact that the enquiry which forms the pretext of the Circular, might have been deferred for at least two years, without the least disadvantage—the invasion of the Secretary of the Treasury's province, or rather the usurpation of his authority—and the tenor of the penultimate paragraph of the Circular, by which the whole movement is declared to mean nothing for the present in regard to the deposits—these considerations prove that the affair is a juggle, and render it unworthy of any serious attention on the part of the State banks.

The vagueness of the enquiry, along with the explicit declaration that the government contracts no kind of obligation to act hereafter, or employ any particular bank in any event, would seem to justify the parties addressed in declining to give a definite answer or enter into any negotiation at all. A state bank has its own dignity—its self respect—to consult. While, therefore, it treats the President of the United States or any other member of the government, with comity, it will not consent to waste its time and attention on barren subjects, or to be used for covert purposes with which it has no proper connection.

Supposing the real object of the President's agent to be such information concerning the faculties and dispositions of the State banks, as may render Congress less desirous of preserving the present National institution or establishing another, those banks may well doubt whether they ought to do any act—particularly one premature and unnecessary in itself—which shall promote that object. If no national institution is to be suffered to axist, then the deposits must be given to the State banks; nothing, therefore, can be lost by delay until the actual crisis. They may not care to be sounded now. It may be a part of the agent's design to excite ill will and jealousy—to cause mutual dissatisfaction and estrangement, between the State banks and the National bank. This condition of things is not desirable for them on any account, nor would it become them to be subservient to such an end."

We are gratified to learn that the friends of Union, and of the peace, honor, and happiness, which flow from that source, intend shortly to present Colonel Drayton with a splendid piece of Plate as a feeble testimony of their sense of his distinguished private and public qualites. The unbending virtues of this great and good man have called forth the admiration even of his political enemies. He is indeed without fear and without reproach. We regret that the contribution by each citizen is limited to one dollar.—This was doubtless done to enable every virtuous poor man in the community to gratify his best feelings by participating in this business. It will be a noble offering to patriotism and worth.—Charleston Patriot.

Case of Transfusion of Blood.—We extract the following from Mr. Banner's Clinical Reports, which appeared in the last number of the London Medical and Surgical Journal. After giving the particulars of the case, which was one of hemorrhage, in a lady of delicate constitution, Mr. Banner goes on to state, that on the 6th of May last, between the hours of nine and one, the patient appeared in a dying state; she was quite unconscious, the pulse could only occasionally be felt, the eye was half closed and glassy, the breathing scarcely perceptible; she had taken a half a pint of brandy and a considerable quantity of red wine, without producing any effect on the system. As a last means, Mr. Bickersteth proposed the operation of transfusion, which was agreed to, and immediately commenced as follows:

"Blundell's apparatus was used; I made an incision at the bend of the right arm, and laid bare the vein for three quarters of an inch; the apparatus was immersed in warm water, and placed in a convenient position; a ligature was now applied round the husband's arm; I made a small opening into the patient's vein, and introduced the small loose pipe which was held there by an assistant; a large orifice was made in the husband's vein, from which the blood issued freely into the receiver of the instrument; the pump was now exhausted of its atmospheric air, and the elastic tube was attached to the pipe already in the patient's vein. Mr. Bickersteth attended to the pipe and arm, Dr. Jeffreys to the constitutional symptoms, whilst I pumped slowly about five syringefulls of blood into the system, when, from the increased oppression in breathing, it was thought proper to rest awhile.

After waiting a few minutes, the lungs appeared somewhat relieved, and two syringefulls of blood were introduced, when the breathing became again laborious, the pulse now became perceptible at the wrist, we consequently felt justified in not persevering in the injection. For a short time after the operation, the pulse could be felt, when, for nearly two hours, the patient remained in a very doubtful state, the breathing and pulse scarcely perceptible, the body cold and clammy. At three o'clock, P. M., a decided improvement took place, the breathing was more natural, the pulse could be felt stronger, and she was enabled to take weak brandy and water. From this time the patient gradually recovered, and is now well. The rallying effects from the operation of transfusion are not so immediate as I had been led to suppose; if it had not been for the oppression of breathing which was produced, I should have considered the immediate effects on the system trifling. The pump will contain about two ounces.

The quantity of blood that was introduced, no doubt kept up vitality, and enabled the system to rally. The more I reflect on this operation, the more I feel confident of its usefulness as a means of saving life, in case of extreme danger from the effects of hemorrhage."

The Pennsylvanian—the organ of the Van Buren party of this state, has entered the lists against the re-election of Governor Wolf, in 1835. We are glad of this, although it destroys the boasted "union and harmony of the democratic party," but probably it may save the state from going for the Vice President, if continued until that important period arrives. The popularity of Gen. Jackson and the support of his party, it is well known, elected Governor Wolf, in 1829—and if that same party should unite with the friends of Mr. Van Buren at the next Gubernatorial and Presidential elections, there is no knowing what the people of this state might be induced to do—perhaps elect them both. But if the friends of Gov. Wolf should not support the election of Mr. Van Buren, because the friends of Van Buren will not support the re-election of the Governor, Pennsylvania will escape the power of the New York magician. How some of our politicians in this county, who are bound to support the re-election of the Governor, and wish to support the Vice President also, will relish this kind of "union and harmony, throughout the democratic party in all sections of this commonwealth," and the auspiciousness "of the most glorious results," we cannot foresee—but we suspect some of them will think it better to hold fast to what they have got, than risk the great uncertainty of gaining more by supporting Martin Van Buren for the Presidency; more particularly if his friends should oppose the re-election of Gov. Wolf—notwithstanding some of them have declared their intentions to support the candidate nominated by the National Convention.—Norristown Herald.

Libraries in Philadelphia.—From a notice which appeared in a recent number of the Boston Mercantile Journal, stating that the public libraries in that city contained 45,000 volumes, besides about 20,000 in the circulating libraries, and that it was believed Philadelphia contained one good library amounting to 25,000 volumes, we have been induced to ascertain the names of the public libraries in this city, and the number of volumes contained in each as nearly as practicable. We present the following as the result of our inquiries:

	Volumes.
1. Philadelphia Library,	42,000
2. Library of the American Philosophical Society,	9,600
3. Library of the Pennsylvania Hospital,	6,500
4. Library of the Academy of Natural Sciences,	5,200
5. Library of the University of Pennsylvania,	2,000
6. Library belonging to the Society of Students,	2,000
7. Library of the Friends in Philadelphia,	2,700
8. Library of the Almshouse, upwards of	3,000
9. Library of the Penn. Academy of Fine Arts,	150
10. Library of the Law Association, upwards of	1,400
11. Library of the Medical Society,	600
12. Library of the College of Physicians,	500
13. Library of the College of Pharmacy,	500
14. Library of St. Augustine Church, upwards of	3,000

Many of the works in these various depots are scarce, and not easily procured at the present time. The library of the University contains a donation from the unfortunate Louis XVI., made during the Revolutionary War—all of which were printed at the royal printing office, and treat of mathematics, natural history, &c. The library of the Academy of Fine Arts contains a donation from Bonaparte. The libraries of the Hospital and Almshouse contain the best works on medicine, surgery, and the sciences, while those of the Academy of Natural Sciences and the Museum are devoted to natural history and travels. The library of St. Augustine Church contains, we believe, the only complete copy of the "Fathers" in this country.—Philad. Com. Herald.

Major Downing's exposition of the affairs of the United States Bank, as published in our paper of Thursday, says the New York Daily Advertiser, was very generally read. The call was so great, for this valuable document, that we were unable to supply one half the copies called for.—Poulson, Aug. 12.

Commendable Liberality.—A further donation of provisions for the relief of the suffering inhabitants of the Cape de Verd Islands, has been generously contributed in this town, says the New Bedford Mercury, and Fairhaven, and we learn that the bark Roscoe, owned by the Messrs. Mumfords, and others, will take out supplies on her present voyage from this port, consisting of about one hundred barrels of bread, beef, &c. Besides the supplies from other parts of this country, we believe this is the third or fourth vessel that has taken out provisions to this distressed people from New Bedford, by the latest advices with which we are furnished they are daily perishing for the want of food. We do hope that the benevolent of our country will still continue to extend the hand of charity to this suffering People, who are alike unable to remove from, or to remain in, their once fertile possessions.—Poulson, Aug. 12.

An eastern editor, in taking leave of his patrons, remarks that he has labored, he has watched, and he has prayed, for the good cause in which he embarked, and if he should continue his editorial connection much longer, it is probable that he should also fast.

Our Farmers who have paid attention to the increase and improvement of their flocks, are likely to reap a rich harvest for such attention this season. Wool is considerably advanced in price, and likely to be high for some time. The demand is great and increasing. The clip of this year has been all bought up in the Eastern and New York States; and such is the avidity with which it is sought after, in our own State, that, we are credibly informed, no less than sixteen persons, all wool buyers, were in Washington, (Pa.,) recently, in one day.—The Protector.

"Nauscopie."—This is the name of a wonderful invention, discovered, it is said, by a Frenchman, named Bottineau, in 1765, by which vessels at sea can be discovered 250 leagues off. An account of the discovery is given in the Monthly Magazine. A nebulous satellite, according to this invention, precedes a ship for several days, which can be seen. The French Government did not patronize Bottineau, and, in 1810, he was living in obscurity.—We shall probably hear something more of this, now that it has begun to be talked about.—Alex. Gazette.

On the first of July, the specie, in the vaults of the Bank of the United States, amounted $10,098,216 06. The specie, in the vaults of all the State Banks in the Union, is said to amount to only $10,953,950.—Balt. Chron. Aug. 12.

MR. DURANT, the celebrated Aeronaut, made his seventh ascension on Thursday evening, at Albany. The ascent is stated to have been made in his best style, and that every thing conspired to render it gratifying to the immense concourse of spectators (nearly 4,000) who had assembled, in Meek's Garden, to witness it.—Balt. Chronicle, August 12.

Singular Phenomenon.—We learn that, from some cause unknown, the fish, in the ponds, at Southwich, Mass., are in a diseased state, and vast numbers of them are already dead, and the remainder apparently in a dying condition. It is said that loads of large pickerel and perch may be picked up, or taken with the hand, near the shore.—The very low water in the ponds is supposed, by some, to be the cause of this mortality. Our correspondent adds, that a similar occurrence took place some 30 or 40 years since.

Anecdote.—An Irish woman called at a grocer's, the other day, and asked for a quart of vinegar. It was measured off, and put into her gallon jug. She then asked for another quart, to be put into the same vessel. "And why not ask for half a gallon and done with it?" said the grocer. "Och! bless your little bit of a soul," answered she, "it's for two persons."

Something worth Imitation.—The people of Virginia are more bound to such an act as the following than the citizens of Massachusetts.

"Mr. A. Everett, in an address before the Massachusett's Colonization Society, said—'By a vote of the Massachusett's Colonization Society, a considerable sum has been appropriated for the establishment of a school, of a superior class, at the Colony of Liberia, to be called the MASSACHUSETT'S FREE SCHOOL. This institution will, probably, go into operation in the course of the present year, and may be expected to contribute very efficaciously towards the maintenance and improvement of the present flourishing, intellectual, and moral condition of Liberia."—Compiler.

WHO IS IT?—There is a gentleman here, there, and every where,—to day in Concord,—to morrow in Washington—anon in N. York—and now at the Springs. He is a Magician for traveling. Houseless, homeless, wifeless, he electioneers in Stage coaches, Steamboats,—at the White House and the springs—with men, girls, and boys—his face ever smiles, his mouth always in a pucker, bowing and nodding, whimpering and smirking—all things to all men, to women, and to children. Who is it?—Portland Courier.

The elections for Congress, in the States of North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, and Indiana, have taken place within the last few days. Also, for one additional member from the State of Missouri, under the new apportionment, the election which resulted in favor of Gen. Ashley having taken place before the State had passed a law providing for the election of a second representative.

We have no intelligence except that in North Carolina, Messrs. Jesse Speight and Thomas H. Hall are re-elected without opposition.—Baltimore American.

Fort Adams.—The completion of this important work, at Newport, R. I., is now progressing with great rapidity. Upwards of 400 laborers are now daily employed, and the monthly payments for the labor alone, exceeds the sum of twelve thousand dollars.

Longevity.—A Scotch paper notices an old woman, living near Glosslough, who is 130 years of age. She never took a doctor's drug in her life, nor was a lancet ever applied to her frame; she is perfectly free from affections of the chest, and during the last century of her life, she has been a perfect stranger to pain, and her pulse does not exceed seventy. Her grandfather died at the age of 129, and her father died in the 120th year of his age.

Non Est Inventus.—The sloop Fame, from a serpentine voyage in Massachusetts Bay, returned hither on Monday last, with the loss of four men—by desertion. The Fame found the celebrated marine monster—missing; so that, instead of taking him, the old sarpent has taken some of his pursuers—the which remindeth us of one of Peter Pindar's new old ballads, addressed "to a fish of the brooke."

"Enjoy thy streame, O harmless fish,
And when an angler, for his dish,
Through gluttony's vile sin,
Attempts, a wretch, to pull thee out,
God give thee strength, O gentle trout,
To pull the rascal in!"

Through a Boston Print we had learned that the Fame had captured some sort of a rare ocean animal, called a Puffing Pig—a species of porpus; and, on inquiring therefor, the skipper told us they had eaten it all up!—The ravenous ichthyophaginians! And so ends the expedition—and so, also, ends all our little faith—every particle—in the existence of any creature whatever, bearing the least similitude to the alleged "sea serpent," so often dreamed of, and described, by credulous visionaries and fabulists.—Nantucket Inq.

The North West.—A Lot of ground in Buffalo, (without buildings) lately sold for $75,000. It was purchased a few years ago for $8,000. A steam boat has been built at Huron, (on lake Erie) 200 feet keel, and her engines are to have the power of 240 horses! Well situated stores in Detroit rent for $600 or $700.

A MOTION.—Gentleman Editors, if it be your minds, please manifest it—That Mr. Postmaster Barry have any office he wants—but the Post office, even the Presidency, for even then, he cannot make a worse appointment.—Portland Adv.

Signers of the Declaration of Independence.—Of the 56 signers of the Declaration, 9 were born in Massachusetts; 8 in Virginia; 5 in Maryland; 4 in Connecticut; 4 in N. Jersey; 4 in Pennsylvania; 4 in South Carolina; 3 in New York; 3 in Delaware; 2 in Rhode Island; 1 in Maine; 3 in Ireland; 2 in England; 2 in Scotland; and 1 in Wales.

21 were attorneys, 10 were merchants, 4 physicians, 3 farmers, 1 clergyman, 1 printer, and 16 were men of fortune.

8 were graduates of Harvard College, 4 of Yale, 3 of New Jersey, 2 of Philadelphia, 2 of Wm. and Mary, 3 of Cambridge, Eng., 2 of Edinburg, and 1 of St. Omers.

At the times of their deaths, 5 were over 90 years of age; 7 between 80 and 90; 11 between 70 and 80; 12 between 60 and 70; 11 between 50 and 60; 7 between 40 and 50; one died at the age of 27, and the age of two is uncertain.

At the time of the signing the Declaration the average age of the members was 44 years. They lived to the average age of more than 65 years and 10 months. The youngest member was Edward Rutledge, of South Carolina, who was in his 27th year. He lived to the age of 51. The next youngest member was Thomas Lynch, of the same State, who was also in his 27th year. He was cast away at sea, in the fall of 1776.

Benjamin Franklin was the oldest member. He was in his 71st year when he signed the Declaration. He lived to 1790, and survived 16 of his younger brethren. Stephen Hopkins, of Rhode Island, the next oldest member, was born in 1707 and died in 1778.

Charles Carroll attained the greatest age, dying in his 96th year. Wm. Ellery, of Rhode Island, died in his 93d year, and John Adams in his 91st. —Exeter News Letter.

India rubber bids fair to be very extensively used for various purposes where the exclusion of wet or dampness is desirable. The New York Mercantile Advertiser describes several articles of dress, made of cotton cloth, and covered in every part with India rubber, which are wholly impervious to wet. Garments thus prepared are said to stand either heat or cold without any sensible variation.

Those (continue the editors) who have worn the clumsy India rubber over shoes, will duly appreciate having the same effect produced by coating the leather with India rubber, and giving them all the advantages of the over shoe, without adding any thing to the weight of their common shoes.

These articles are perfectly pliable, and may be made into all sorts of wearing apparel and linings, chaise and carriage tops, curtains, aprons, and cushions, baggage wagon covers, traveling bags, portmanteaus, knapsacks, tents, gun covers, awnings, shades, horse blankets, game bags, fishing wallets, cork and bottle covers, nurse's aprons, and into articles for every purpose requiring perfect protection from the wet or exclusion from the air—calf and sheep skins, suitable for boots, over shoes, shoes, ladies' walking shoes, linings, and inner soles.—Also, water proof hats, gloves, mittens, sheets for hydrostatic beds, &c., air proof beds, pillows, cushions, swimming belts, life preservers, gas bags, &c.

African Expedition.—A Liverpool paper contains an account of the expedition designed to explore the Niger, derived, as is stated, from two seamen, who were in Brass river at the time of its arrival there. This expedition left England in July, of last year. It consisted of the brig Columbine, and of the steam boats Quorra and Alburka, the former under the command of Capt. Harris, and the latter of Richard Lander. The expedition arrived in the river Nun about the middle of October, having lost the commander of the Quorra on the passage. It then proceeded to the dominions of King Boy, whose relations with the Landers, on their former expedition, were not of a strictly amicable character. They were transferred to his custody after having been attacked and plundered by the Kerrie people. The object of this monarch appeared to be simply to obtain as large a ransom as possible; and, in order to furnish it, the Landers drew upon the commander of an English vessel then at the mouth of the Niger, who refused to supply it, but took them with him from the coast, leaving King Boy much discontented with the course which affairs had taken. He is said, however, by the informants of the Liverpool editor, to have been easily propitiated by the attentions and liberality of the officers of the present expedition, and to have volunteered his company on its progress. The expedition had penetrated as far as the Eboe country. Its progress will be watched with much interest; its results, both in a scientific and commercial point of view, may be quite important. The great problem, respecting the Niger, was solved by the Landers; but, as might have been expected, considering the circumstances under which they traveled, their observations were not remarkably extensive or minute.—Boston Pat.

Massachusetts Fisheries.—The Charleston, (S. C.) Courier, in noticing Dr. Smith's recent work on the "Massachusetts Fishes," makes the following abstract from the book:

Many of the towns in the Colony of Massachusetts began, at an early date, to cultivate their river fisheries. In 1641, 300,000 dry fish were sent to market. Previously to the American Revolution, the cod fishery of Massachusetts employed 28,000 tons of shipping and 4000 seamen; making an annual value of industry and enterprise of about $1,000,000. In 1775, Great Britain broke up this profitable employment, by prohibiting the colonies the exercise of the right of fishery on the banks of Newfoundland. The restoration of peace with Great Britain, after the achievement of American Independence, revived this branch of industry and hardy enterprise, which was further stimulated by a bounty granted by Congress in 1779, on exported fish, and a few years after, to vessels employed in the business. In 1807, 71,000 tons of shipping were employed in the cod-fishery alone, and the average value of exports from this country, of the productions of the sea, for that and the four preceding years, was estimated at $3,000,000. The unwise restrictions then imposed on our commerce, caused the fisheries to diminish in value, from that period until the close of the second war with Great Britain. The return of peace again effected their revival, and the very next year 68,000 tons of vessels, employing 10,000 seamen, were again upon the ocean. In 1804, the number of barrels of mackerel packed in Massachusetts was 8079; in 1811, 19,000. The war nearly destroyed this business; but in 1815 it rose again to 16,000 barrels. In 1820, the increase was so rapid, that the number of barrels packed amounted to 236,243. This was before the separation of Maine. In the subsequent year, Massachusetts alone packed 111,009 barrels—and in 1831, the amount had swelled to 348,750 barrels. The number of vessels employed in 1831, was near 400, and the seamen probably exceeded 4000. The probable value of the mackerel fishery for 1831, exceeded $1,500,000.

The Richmond Whig gives the following account of John Randolph's last visit to President Jackson, once his idol.

"Mr. Randolph went to Washington, avowedly to see and 'reason together' with General Jackson, on the subject of his ill starred proclamation. He thought from his services to the candidate, and his reputation as the chief of the Old Republican Party, that he might be able to procure from the President,' some modification, some mitigation, of the despotic doctrines of that State paper, or rather, that Imperial Rescript. He went, he saw, but he did not conquer. He conversed freely with the President. He pointed out his abberrations from the faith, and the incompatibility of his new notions of federal supremacy, with the tenets which he had professed, and which had leagued the Southern States in his support. He warned him of the consequences to himself, and of the yawning gulf into which he was precipitating the doctrines of '98, and with them the liberties of the Southern States. Mr. Randolph made a powerful impression, and flattered himself with triumphant success, and he would have probably succeeded, but that his efforts were continually effaced by others, and the President had gone too far to recede. To retreat, would have forfeited his new and gigantic Northern popularity, acquired by the proclamation, and be equivalent to an admission, that he had taken the most important of steps, in ignorance of the principles he had advanced, or so lightly as afterwards to be under the necessity of disavowing them. This was the source of Mr. Randolph's failure. We have heard, and believe, that his visit to Washington had this object, and this result."

The desire of power in excess caused angels to fall; the desire of knowledge in excess caused man to fall; but in charity there is no excess, neither can man nor angels come into danger by it. —Bacon.

We notice that on the Delaware division of the canal, there was received, during the week ending on the 7th inst., $1523 82. There passed 76 boats with 3800 tons of coal, and 12 boats with paving stones, whiskey, wheat and flour.—U. S. Gaz.

A New Article.—A gentleman in this town has lately commenced the manufacture or Braces for carpenters' bitts. He finds he can well afford and has engaged to supply the principal dealer in N. York, at a less price than they can import them. This fact, taking into view the quality of the American Brace, we should think would drive the English article from market. This is adding another to the hundreds of articles which are now made cheaper and better in this country than they can be imported. Thus Brother Jonathan triumphs over John Bull in a better way than by the sword and musket.—Springfield Repub.

Extracts from the Review of the Philadelphia Market, for the week ending Saturday evening, Aug. 10, 1833, collected for the United States Gazette, from Actual Sales.

COTTON.—There have been no arrivals of cotton during the week, and sales only to a limited extent have been made, and former prices fully supported. Some parcels of Georgia Uplands have been taken at from 15 3-4 to 16 1-2 cts., 4 mths, and considerable lots of Tennessee at 14 1-2 a 15 1-4 cts., 4 mths. Advices from Europe to the 8th July were received late on Saturday evening of a favorable aspect; large sales of cotton had been made at an advance on former prices.

FLOUR.—The demand for superfine flour still continues limited. The sales, as far as reported to us, amount to only 3,000 bbls. A lot of old stock sold early in the week at $5 50; fresh ground flour brings $5 75, at which price holders are firm.—Sales of upwards of 2,700 barrels were made at that price up to Saturday evening; 100 barrels Brandywine mills flour, being a very superior article, was sold in the middle of the week at $6; 150 bbls. middlings at $3 1-2. Rye flour has been in good demand, and sales at an advance of 1-8 of a dollar has taken place; upwards of 1,500 barrels have been sold at from $3 5-8 to $3 3-4, the latter being the market price. Corn Meal continues in fair request at $3 1-4. The sales of the week amount to about 1,000 barrels, 500 having been taken at this price on Saturday. The sales of superfine flour on the Schuylkill side have been small. Three or four parcels of fresh ground were taken at from $5 5-8 a $5 3-4; the latter being the current price on Friday afternoon.

GRAIN.—The supply of wheat has been very limited, and the starch makers are the only buyers at our quotations, the price being much above the views of the millers; two small lots Delaware wheat were sold at $1 21, and a cargo of Southern at the same price, and two boat loads were delivered at Manayunk at $1 20. A sale of Southern rye was made at 70 cts., and a small parcel Penna. from store, on the Schuylkill side, at 75 cts. Corn has come in more freely; a cargo Southern yellow was sold at 66 cts., and another late in the week at 66 1-2 cts.; a cargo of white at 63 cts.; and a cargo of Pennsylvania damaged at 63 cts., and a small parcel Pennsylvania on the Schuylkill side at 68 cts. Upwards of 1,400 bushels Delaware oats have been sold at 26 cts.; and about 1,000 bushels Pennsylvania do. on the Schuylkill river, at from 32 a 33 cents.

PROVISIONS.—Lard still continues—active sales of 425 kegs Western at 9 a 9 1-2 cts. cash, and 300 kegs Jersey at 10 3-4 cts. Pork is scarce—a sale of a parcel of Jersey cargo was made at $12 50, and a lot of Jersey mess at $15. Sales of cheese at 7 a 8 cts.

SUGARS.—Sales of 50 boxes brown Havana sugar, 8 1-3 cts., 3 per cent. off. A lot of very superior at 8 1-3 c., 6 mths.; about 70 boxes at 8 3-4, 6 mths., and 100 hhds. Porto Rico at 7 1-2 a 9 cts., 4 mths.

TOBACCO.—A sale of 77 hhds. of Kentucky Tobacco was made, but the terms not reported, and 25 bales Havana at 60 a 62 cts.

WOOL.—Notwithstanding the large sales of wool which have been made during the season, the demand continues good, and sales to a very large extent are making every week. We have to report a parcel of 6,000 lbs. pulled and fleece wool at quotations; 7,000 lbs. Western at 65 cts.; 4,500 lbs. of different qualities at 38 a 47 cts.; 3,000 lbs. Western fleeces at 69 cts.; and 1,000 lbs. com. and 1-4 blood at 45 cts. There is no foreign wool imported at this time, owing to high prices in Europe.

ALLEGHENY COLLEGE.

THE Trustees of this Institution, under its new arrangement, have established a Preparatory Department, to be taught under the direction of the Faculty; and which will be opened on the first Monday of September, ensuing. The object of the Trustees, in this arrangement, is to furnish all the advantages of an English and Classical Academy, for the benefit of students who are not sufficiently advanced to enter the Freshman class of the College, and also for such as desire an English education, without taking a full collegiate course. In this Preparatory Department, therefore, students will be taught a thorough course of English education, including Book Keeping, and so much Latin and Greek as will be required for entrance into the Freshman class.

The Collegiate Department, according to notice already given, will be opened on the first Monday of November, ensuing.—As Meadville is delightfully situated, and remarkable for its healthfulness, no doubt is entertained that this Institution will receive a liberal share of public patronage.

YOUNG LADIES'

Boarding and Day School.

MR. & MRS. ALDEN, formerly of Meadville, but lately of Cincinnati, contemplate opening a Young Ladies' Boarding and Day School, in the Borough of Allegheny, on the last Monday of the present month of August.

Without entering into particulars, their object will be to instruct in the various branches usually taught at our best female institutions. Among the Day Scholars, a class of boys, under eight years of age, will be received.

☞For terms—application may be made to the Teachers, at the house recently occupied by the Rev. Mr. Halsey, which Mr. Alden has taken for the proposed purpose, till a prospectus shall have been published.

New Theatre, Pittsburgh.

THE Public is respectfully informed, that this ELEGANT NEW THEATRE, at present buildiug, in Fifth Street, will be opened for the Season, under the management of the subscriber, with a Dramatic Company not surpassed by any in the Union, on Monday, the Second of September, 1833.

The building has been substantially erected, by those well known Mechanics, Messrs. Roseburg, Reynolds, Scott, & McCulloch, after a plan drawn by John Haviland, Esq., of Philadelphia, whose justly acquired fame as an Architect will be increased by the style and Beauty of the Present Edifice.

A first rate London Artist has been employed, for the last three months, in preparing the Dresses especially for this Theatre, which, in point of

ELEGANCE AND SPLENDOR,

Will equal, if not surpass those belonging to the Metropolitan Theatres of New York, or Philadelphia.

THE SCENERY

Has been designed and executed by Mr. J. R. Smith, a young Artist of great talent, and whose productions may challenge comparison with those of the most distinguished Scene Painters of the day.

THE MACHINERY

Has been entrusted to the care of Mr. Stafford, late of the Philadelphia Theatres, and the direction of the

MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT

Will be placed under the Superintendence of Mr. Hoffner, of the Chesnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia.

In addition to the exertions of the Regular Company, most of whom are advantageously known in the Eastern Theatres, the Manager has great pride and pleasure in informing the inhabitants of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, that he has engaged, at great expense, the celebrated American Tragedian

MR. E. FORREST,

Who will have the honor of appearing before them at an early period, of which due notice will be given. Negotiations have already been entered into with the most distinguished Performers of the American Stage, who will appear in rapid succession—among others,

MR. & MRS. HILSON,
MISS CLARA FISHER,
MRS. KNIGHT,
MR. J. R. SCOTT,

Also, Mr. PARSLOE, of the Theatre, Covent Garden, London, &c. &c. &c.

In making these arrangements, the subscriber has used every exertion in his power to render THE THEATRE a place of rational amusement---

"To raise the genius and to mend the heart;
Shew Virtue her own features;
Vice her own image;
The age and body of the time, his form and pressure."

And he throws himself confidently on the liberality of the citizens of Pittsburgh for support.

Lessee Pittsburgh Theatre.

☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a l cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river, where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.

To Baltimore and Philadelphia
TRAVELLERS.

THE LINE OF STAGES between Chambersburgh and Baltimore, on the Somerset and Mountpleasant route, has been doubled, and now runs DAILY, (Mondays excepted,) leaving Chambersburgh at day-light in the morning, and arriving in Baltimore, early the same evening.

Passengers reach Philadelphia, in this way, the second afternoon, from Chambersburgh, without the loss of any rest; taking the splendid STEAM BOAT LINES, which set out at 6 o'clock in the morning, [via CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL, a work well worth the trip to see.]

REESIDE, Owner.

In all cases where the passengers desire to reach Baltimore in time for the 5 o'clock steam-boat to Philadelphia, they can do so by leaving Chambersburgh at one o'clock in the morning, or immediately after the arrival of the Western Mail Stage. In this way, they arrive in Philadelphia, by eight o'clock the second morning, from Chambersburgh.

☞ When a load offers, the stage will run on Mondays. April 23, 1830.—tf.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
